THE STORY OF SNAKE RIVER 1980

TAMERA CHRISTENSEN

TO THE STUDENTS OF SNAKE RIVER 1980

This book is dedicated to you, and all the happy and sad times you've created, they will make this story shine in the memories of tomorrow.

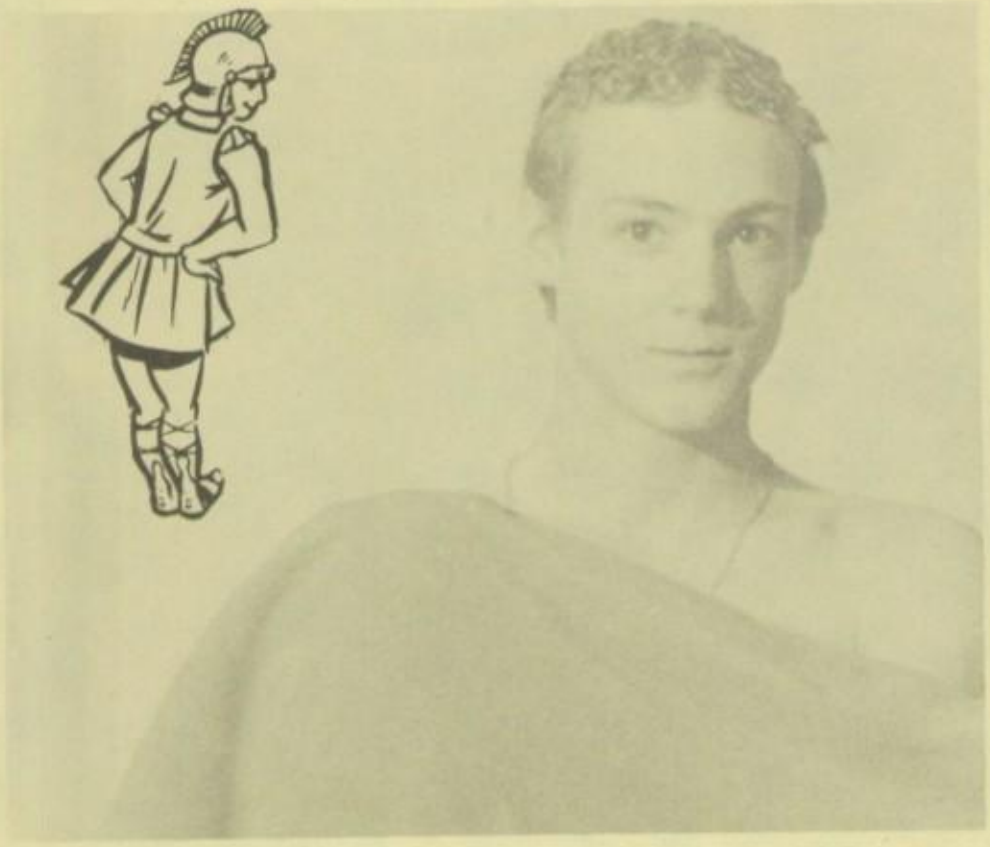
ONCE UPON A YEAR . . .

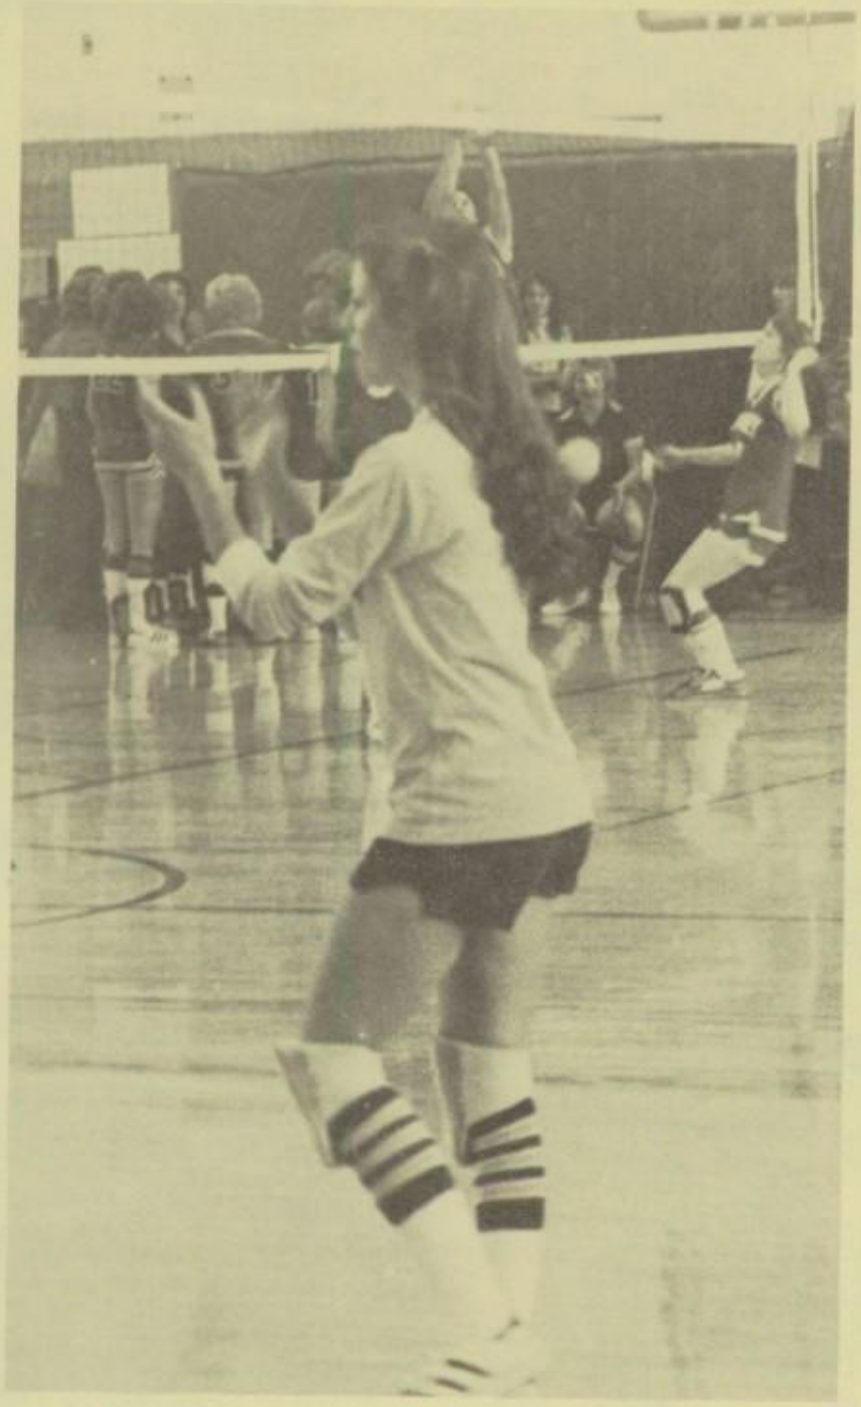
THERE WAS A SCHOOL . . .

THIS SCHOOL HAD SPIRIT . . .

AND WAS UNITED . . .

IT HAD DIGNITY . . .





GRACE . . .

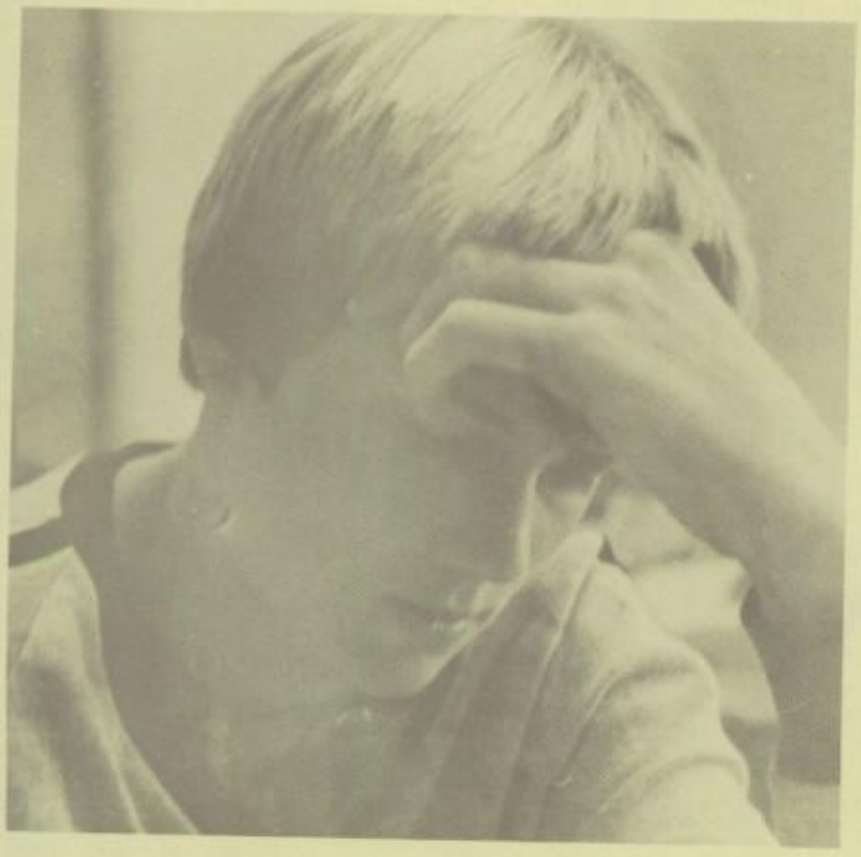
AND WAS VERY FUN—LOVING . . .

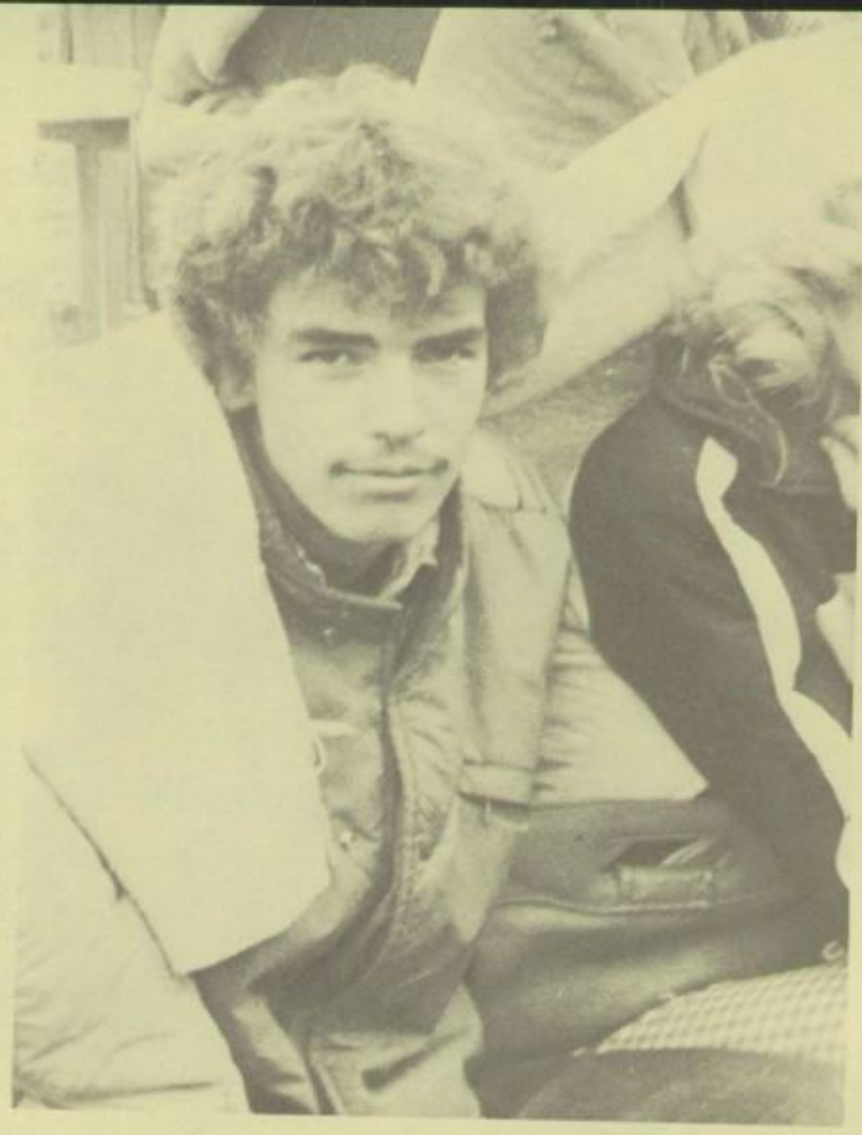
IT WAS HAPPY. . .

AND IT HAD STYLE . . .

IT WAS PHOTOGENIC . . .

THIS SCHOOL WAS ALL THESE THINGS





BECAUSE IT HAD . . .

YOU!

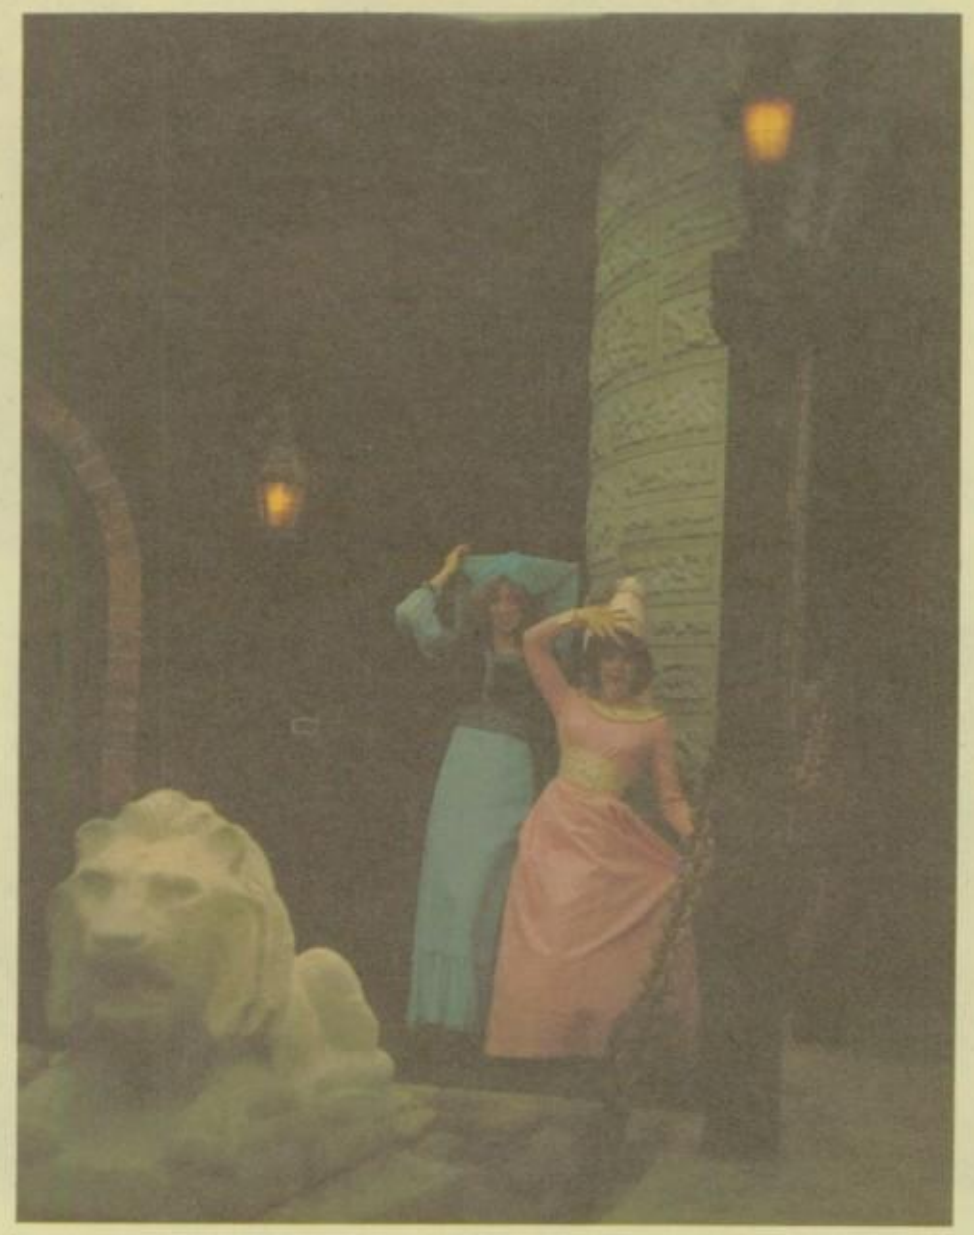
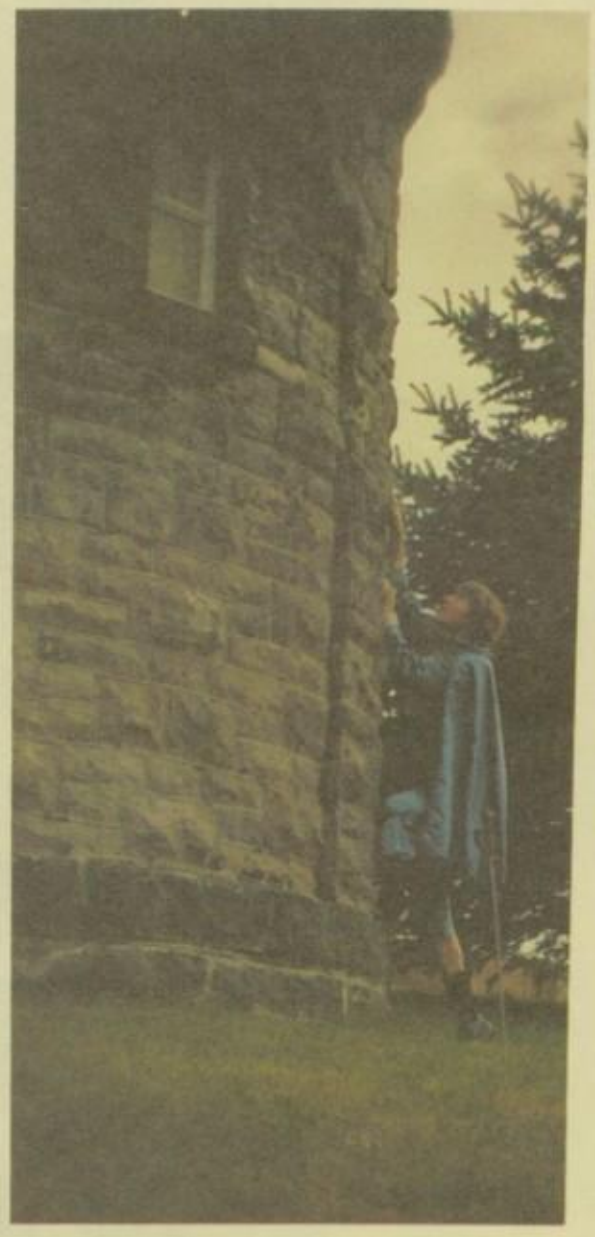
AHH. . .HELP, HELP!", cryed the fair maidens, as the Black Knight drew the draw bridge.

"Take them to thee tower, locketh that door and throweth awayeth that key," the Black Knight commanded.



"OHH. . .what ever shall we do?" cryed Missy Maid Karen.

"Looketh not at me," sobbed Linda, "I'm in Dyer distress!"



HELP

I'LL SAVE YOU!

"HARK!, be you in yonder tower?" called Sir Ronald.

"We be!", Sir Ronald.

"I shall climb this tower & rescue thee. Patience maids", said Sir Ronald.

Within moments Sir Ronald had gotten both Missy Maid Karen and Maid Dyer from the tower and was bravely bridging the mote with each, in their turn, in his arms.

Seeth thou. . . knight?
There, yonder at bridge begun.
Stoutly, halted is he.
What seeketh thou,
Sir Knight?

Fear fills thy eye.
Thy gaze fixed,
at water that is done.
The road thou hast
trod, maketh thee to weep.

It is done—No matter
Lift thy stallion.
Gallop beyond this time.

Thy tomorrow shall be well,
It is good,
All shall be well.

But Sir Ronald shall defend!

"Is . . . is . . . he dead?", whimppered the maids.

"Yes, of course my pretties!"

"Oh then we must reward thee," . . . And they did.

. . . but who should be watching from his tower window? You guessed it, the Black Knight.

Swiftly he gathered his armor about him to retrieve "his " beauties.

JUST DESSERTS

Charles Acevedo

Who so would be a man would be a non-conformist.

Kent Adams

And miles to go before I sleep...

Ted Adams

Life is just too short to waste.

Brenda Adermann

I attend all the socials ...

Rynne Anderson

Beauty is not caused, it is.

Carrie Baker

Her silence is wonderful to listen to.

Tina Baker

"Act while there yet is time!"

Chet D Barker

I'm an ole fashioned feller who's willin't begin at the 'bottom and work my way up.

Alan Bankhead

He is not so afraid to die that he cannot live.

Lucinda Barber

Peace of mind is better than giving them, "a piece of my mind."

Mark Belk

A courage mightier than the sun- You rose, and fought and, fighting, won!

Lari Belnap

Had I been present at the creation, I would have given some useful hints for the better ordering of the universe.

Corey Bennett

An artist is within him waiting to be born.

Linda Bergevin

There are more pretty photographs of woman, that there are photographs of pretty woman.

Terrie L Brown

There are two aims in life, first, get what you want, second, enjoy it.

Jeff Burba

So what?

Leslie Burke

I love what I'm good at.

Robin Capson

Life is a pure flame and we live by the invisible sun within us.

Cindy Carson

Her smile is as the litten west, Nigh-while the sun is gone.

Vanera Christensen

We can complain because rose bushes have thorns or rejoice because thorn bushes have roses.

Diane Christensen

The greatest truths are the simplest.

Mike Collins

A valiant heart of youth and manhood, firm unclouded reason.

Debbie Cooper

People are the most fun.

Angie Cornia

Minds, like parachutes are functional only when open.

Vickie Covenireth

All kind o'smiley round the lips, An' teary round the lashes.

Alan Culpepper

He's like a clock, wound up.

Jacquelyn DaBell

She's tall inside.

Kimra Dance

But once I had brains, and a heart also; so having tried them both, I should much rather have a heart.

Ronda Lynn Dance

It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness.

Chip Davidson

Accept me as I am only then will we discover each other.

Annette Duncan

Laugh and the world laughs with you.

Robert J Duncan

Laughter is never an end, it's a by-product.

Linda Dyer

Happiness is like a butterfly. The more you chase it, the more it will elude you. But if you turn your attention to other things, it comes and softly sits on your shoulder.

Dayle Ellis

Quiet but dangerous.

Pamela Erickson

So of cheerfulness, or a good temper, the more it is spent, the more of it remains.

Kash Evans

I can't explain it and I don't intend to try.

JaNae Fuller

The people that make us happy make us wise.

Brett Furniss

An idealist is a person who helps other people to be prosperous.

Lisa Gamble

If sometimes we don't get lost, there's a chance we may never find our way.

Lynette Goodwin

Believe me, every man has his secret sorrows, which the world knows not; and often we call one cold when he is only sad.

Wendy Goodwin

As large as life and twice as natural.

Ronald Greaves

What I must do is all that concerns me, not what people think. "Welcome home, ... brother ..."

Eric Hale

I take things as they may be, that is my philosophy.

Jacque Hamilton

God forbid that I should go to a heaven were there are no horses.

Perry Hawker

Early to bed and you'll wish you were dead. Bed before eleven, nuts before seven.

Kim Helden

Life is far too important a thing to talk seriously about.

Valerie Hermansen

Noble by birth, yet noblier by great deeds.

Andrea Higgins

Life isn't one darn thing after another, it's one darn thing over and over again.

Mary Hill

Her whole life is an epigram, smart, smooth and neatly pen'd.

Rita Hudson

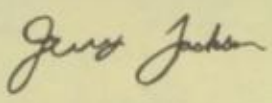
The finest art, the art of living well, is the most difficult to learn, she has learned well.

Susanne Hubbel

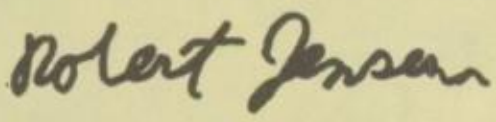
Saints were made for heaven, but they're hell on earth.

Adam Hunt

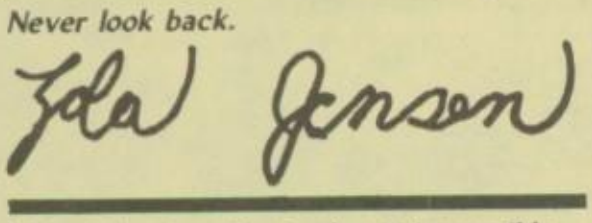
And a time for every purpose.



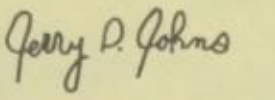
To wonder is to begin to understand.



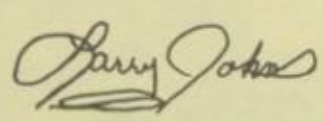
Never look back.



Life without vanity is almost impossible.

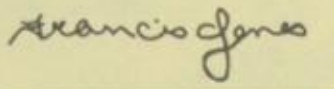


Where's the party?

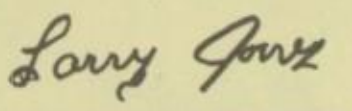


Wine, woman, and song. What more could a man ask for?

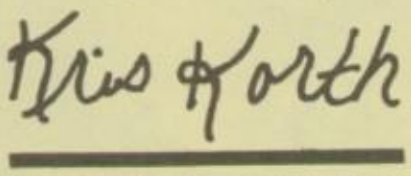
Life is beautiful when one sees beyond it.



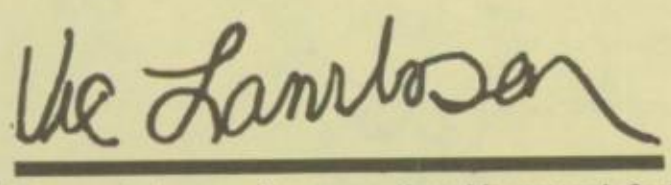
Be the dream. Please explain to the Sr. class what happened to the Sr. Prophecy and why there are no pictures for Sr. Favorites.



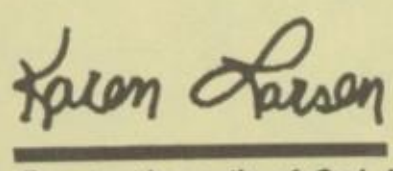
A stranger is a friend you haven't met.



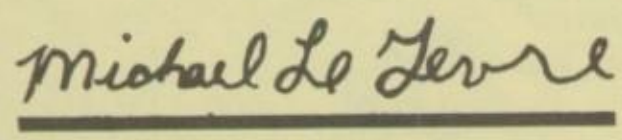
A woman's wit is often better than a man's arm.



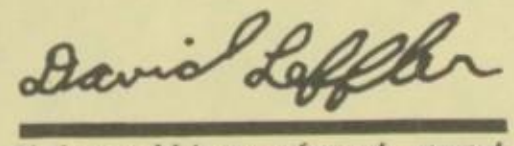
To err is human, I'm uncomfortable around Gods.



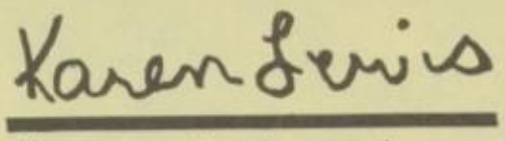
Beauty, the smile of God. Music, his voice.



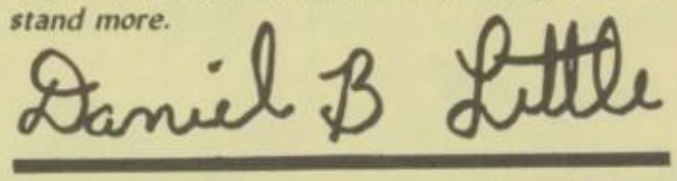
Each dawn is a new beginning.



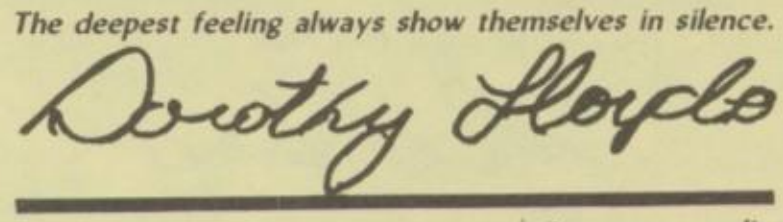
If the world is out of reach, stretch.



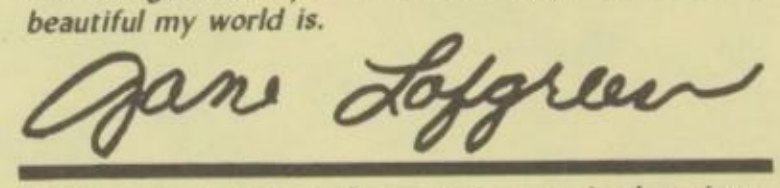
Women are wiser than men because they know less and understand more.



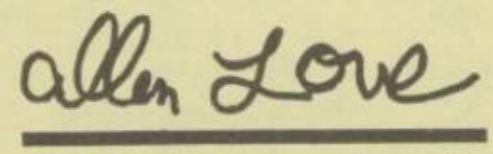
The deepest feeling always show themselves in silence.



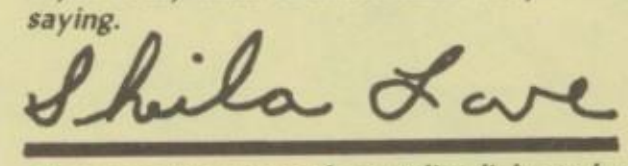
I am so glad that you are here-it helps me to realize how beautiful my world is.



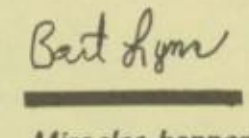
Humor is your own smile surprising you in the mirror.



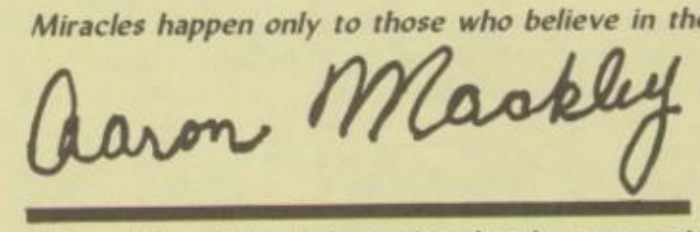
If you really want to understand me, please hear what I'm not saying.



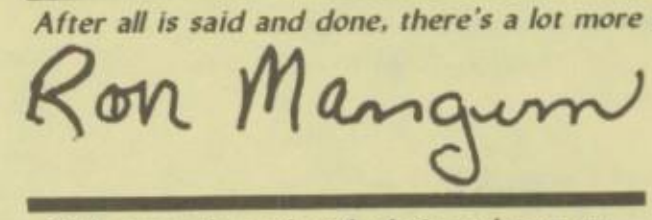
There are two ways of spreading light; to be the candle or the mirror that reflects it.



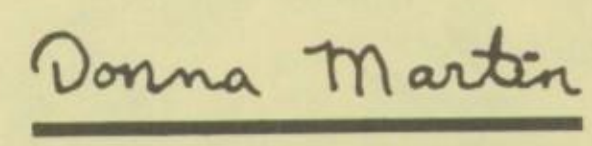
Miracles happen only to those who believe in them.



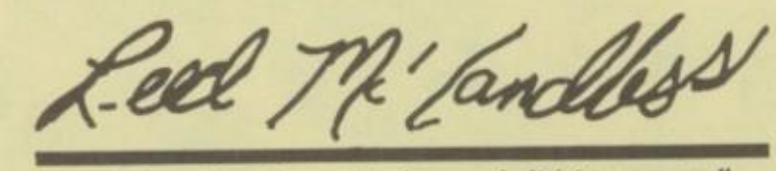
After all is said and done, there's a lot more said than done.



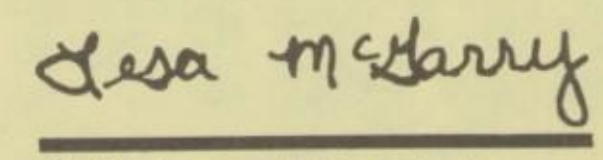
Girls are only real with their make-up on.



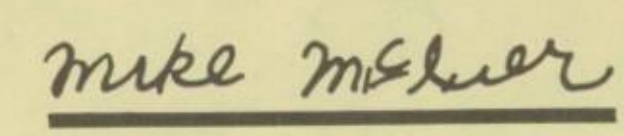
Where there is great love there is always great miracles.



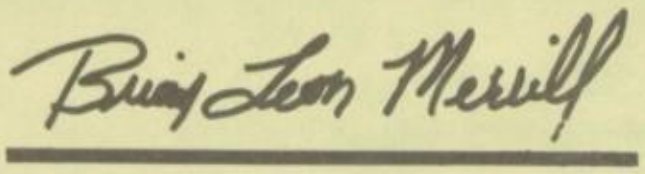
He did nothing in particular, and did it very well.



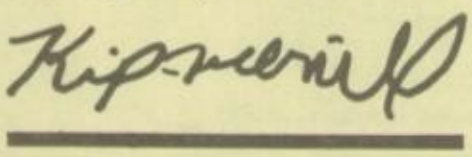
Don't take yourself too seriously.



Strength is the product of struggles.

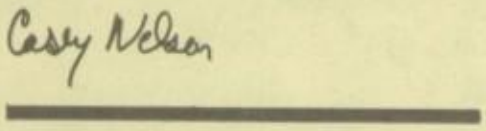


Drawing on my fine command of language I said nothing.

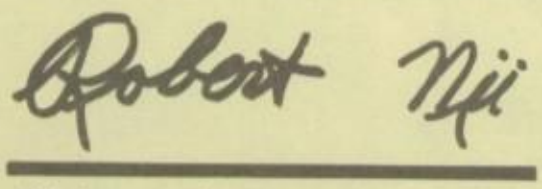


Be good, and if you can't be good, do it good.

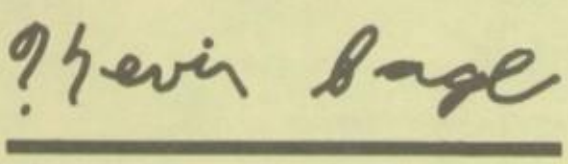
One may smile, and smile and smile and be a villian.



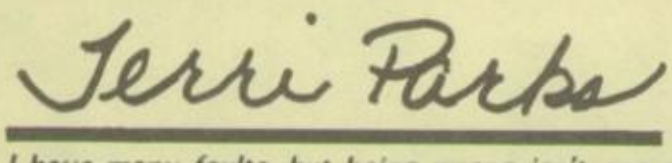
To those who search life reveals it's mystery.



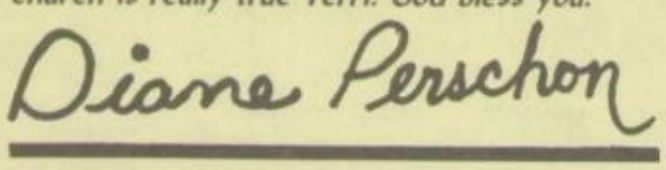
Life is very time consuming.



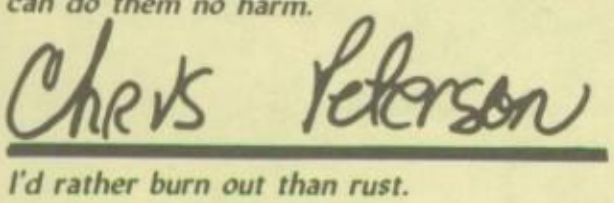
I can resist anything but temptation.



I have many faults, but being wrong isn't one of them. The church is really true Terri. God bless you.

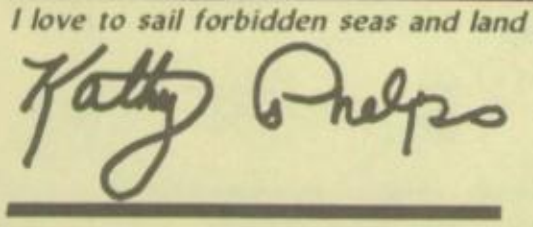


When I am determined, I always listen to reason, because it can do them no harm.

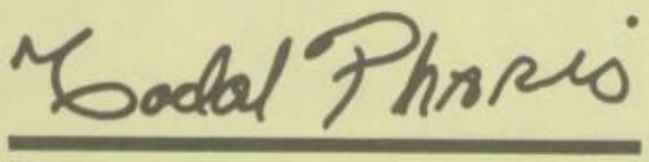


I'd rather burn out than rust.

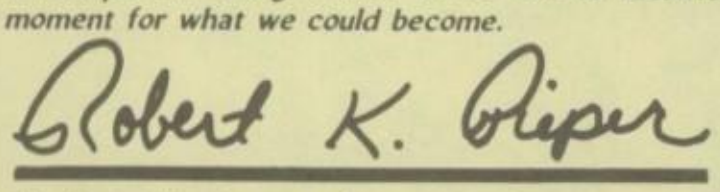
I love to sail forbidden seas and land on barbary coasts.



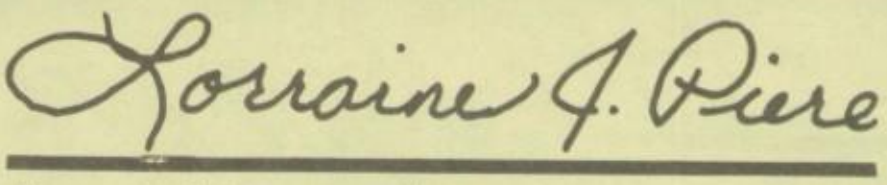
The most I can do for a friend is simply to be a friend.



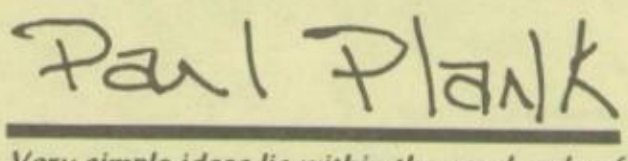
The important thing is this: To be able to sacrifice at any moment for what we could become.



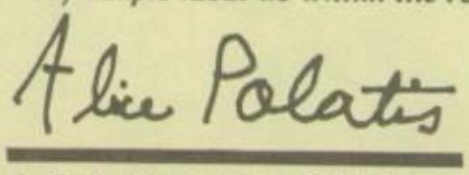
Ideals are like the stars, but . . . we chart our course by them.



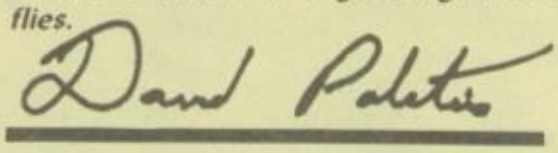
Never cut what you can untie.



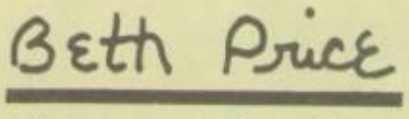
Very simple ideas lie within the reach only of complex minds.



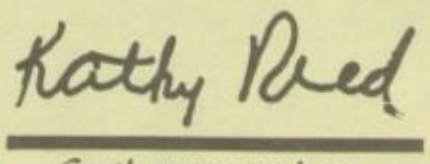
A flash of harmless lightning, a mist of rainbow dyes, the burnished sunbeams brightening, From flower to flower she flies.



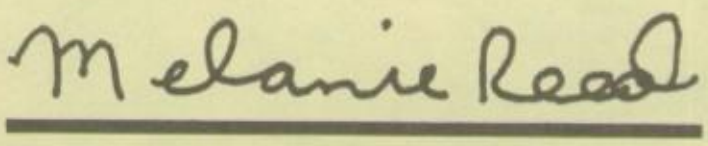
If you don't think you got it, no one else will. I've got it.



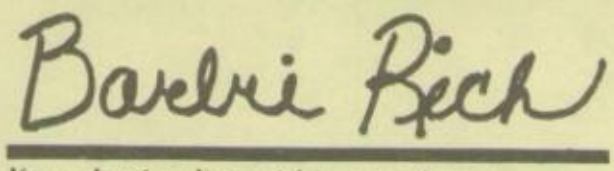
All glory comes from daring to begin.



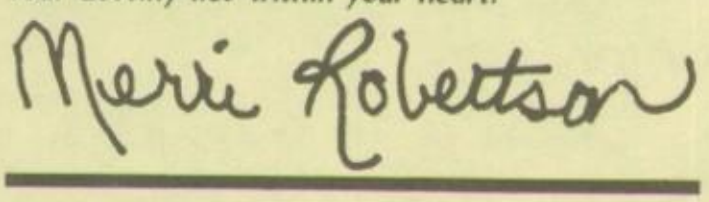
Gentle ways are best.



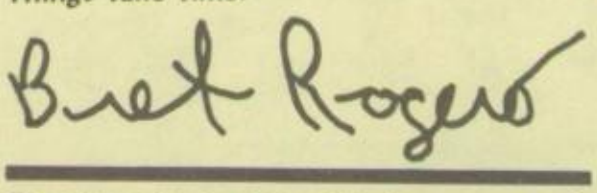
When you see a worm, never mind where it came from.



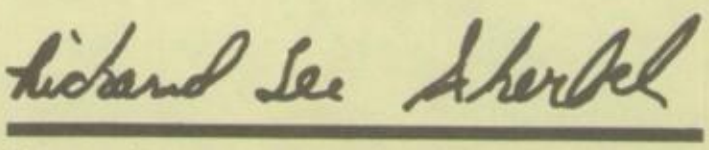
Your destiny lies within your heart.



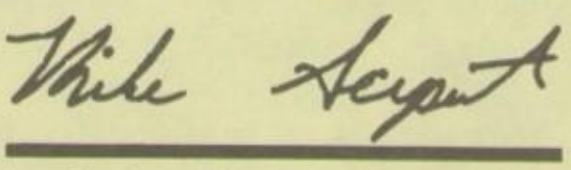
Things take time.



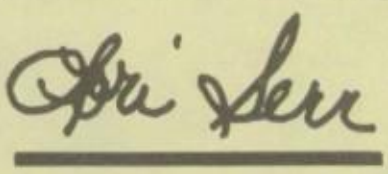
De price of your hat ain't de measure of de brain.



Live each day to it's fullest.



In solitude one lives in all ages.



The simple heart that radiates joy and beauty.

Norman Spackman

Dreams are the touch tones of your character.

Melodie Spencer

Everything has beauty, but not everybody sees it.

Kathi Stanfield

In the midst of winter, I finally learned that there was in me an invincible summer.

Dennis Sterling

There can be no rainbow without a cloud and a storm.

Richard Stilwell

A good thing is the encouragement of a friend.

Julie Stringham

Love makes it possible to believe the impossible.

Alana Talbot

Gentle of speech, beneficent of mind.

Rick Taylor

A disagreeable person is one who disagrees with me.

Teresa Tennis

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

Patrice Thomas

The best way out is always through.

Kevin Thompson

No great thing is ever created suddenly.

Linda Thomson

If there were more like her around the stock of halos would be gone.

Becki Turner

It was real, it was fun, but it wasn't real fun.

Mark Tyler

Don't part with your dreams. When they're gone, you may still exist, but you will cease to live. The church is true!

Brent VanOrden

NOW or NEVER!

Pam VanOrden

Tis fair lie down and laugh.

Sherry VanOrden

One person's wall is another person's portal.

Steve Velvan

Grin and bear it.

Starla Wallace

You are unique in all the world.

Alvin Watt

By the work one knows the workman.

Biff Williams

To a friend's house the road is never long.

Marilyn Williams

Personality is to man what perfume is to flowers.

LAURI Wixom

A whirlwind of caution.

Randy Wood

It takes awhile to find forever.

Kerrie Jo Young

I still believe in tomorrow.

Roger Young

She was a woman who, between courses, could be graceful with her elbows on the table.

Scott Young

May all your days be circus days.

Michaeleho Zubaith

Too much sanity may be madness, and the maddest of all, to see life as it is and not as it should be.

Stefanie Zinkan

Come, ride the wind when it blows and follow, follow to where it goes.

ANCIENT

Once upon a time in the very small land of Thomas, there was a high school. The students there came from many other small lands such as: Moreland, Rockford, Riverside and the ever popular Joe's Bar . . . oh, I mean Pingree. These students joined together and became Snake River High School by name. The symbol for this high school became the mighty Panther, however it was well known in that land of Snake River that to become a mighty Panther one must do 3 yrs. apprentice as a Cub.

All one need do to become a Honorable Cub is go to 7th grade. As the lads and lassies began to notice each other interesting things began to happen. Merri Robertson and Brent VanOrden shared a kiss hear and there, and Lynne Anderson and Lane Taylor fell in "love". All this was part of the first year of apprenticeship to becoming a mighty Panther. FIRST: discovery of girls or boys.

The second year of their apprenticeship began slowly. The third year, almost Panthers, group were not so frightening now and it seemed as though the second year apprentices might be able to make it yet. In the second year the lassie, Francis Jones, and the lad, Perry Hawker broke up. Perry was seeking a quieter lass. Friendships began to develop as the never had before. Everyone wanted to be accepted, but in order to be a member of a group you had to be asked and there was always the chance that they might change their minds. It was never promised that apprenticeship would be easy. If it was easy it would not have been worth the effort. SECOND: desire to be accepted, the disappointment of not being "in".

Panthership was only a year away in our third year, but oh what a difficult year. That which the Panther did now became part of their last year. Dances and games after dark. Dress and actions must be molded to fit the Panther image. Jeans and only jeans were to be worn, hair was to be feathered back for the girls, and one must act adult part of the time. Pam VanOrden will tell you that all this really did make one Pantheristic. She had a Panther chasing her, her whole third year. THIRD: act mature, do things to make yourself fit the mold.

As high school started the trials of apprenticeship ended, but being a Panther is not always easy. Robert Pieper led those students as President. The lassie, Kim Hebdon went to great lengths to represent them . . . Kim Hebdon flipped and flopped her way across every gym floor, and Leslie Burke, Ronda Dance, and Jacque Hamilton followed. That year everyone had to find their place, and everyone had to find out partly who they were. Everybody grew that year, some grew mentally, some grew physically like Wendy Goodwin. She grew almost 6 inches it seemed in 2 weeks. Some didn't grow like Jacque H. and Linda T. FOURTH: grow and find your place.

Perhaps the lesson learned by juniors, or at the least the Juniors that year, was heartache. Their hearts were truly broken as one, very special to them, went his way. "Coach A" was flying through his own "storm" and didn't make it. In our hearts he lives on. Lads and Lassies ended the year with water, graduating from squirt guns to hoses, canals, and even fire extinguishers. That is Ron Mangum used a fire extinguisher. Perhaps that is what Ron learned that year, and maybe that is what he wants to be when he grows up. FIFTH: how to handle great sadness.

Speaking of . . . Ron Mangum led that class through their last year of Panthership. Karen Larsen was Vice President and Linda Dyer was Secretary. It was a difficult task to get that Senior Class together and at times it was an impossible task.

Football passed through again and success was theirs at times. Again there was problems. A lot of credit must go to this group of lads they gave it their all at times, plus a little more. Next year they will be missed.

Basketball season dragged, tripped, stumbled and eventually moved into action. Most of the Seniors sat on the bench namely Randy, but he did not go unrewarded, he got the ward for best bench warmer and doctor's friend. Norman got "Red". Robbi fought with all he had to keep his position from the underclassmen, the odds were 5 against 1. Our boys ended the season with a tough game against Bear Lake, but the boys just couldn't do it that time, they wound up 2nd in the district.

HISTORY

Wrestling was put in the hold from the very start. Robert Pieper was really super! It goes to show you what lots of work and lots of prayer can do. Reed McCandless did very well too, and Wrestling just didn't keep him busy enough so he invented styles for Wrestling wear. His first was the "no tights" look, maybe a little bird talked him out of them. A lot of wrestlers made it to state, but as fast as they made points, Coach Willy and his side kick would respectfully give them away.

Track began with a very talented team. Rob Nii, Dayle Ellis, Joe Phillips, and one underclassman, Roy Montclair brought home a trophy from BYU for being so fast . . . for being so fast? 28 made it to state to go mess around, that is what you do at state isn't it?

The cheerleaders were always trying to entertain you, at one game Kim Hebdon flipped and Jacque was supposed to catch, but instead it flopped. It was interesting, however. At times they could have been accused of trying too hard.

The Drill Team was excellent, even if sometimes their music didn't work and they had to start their drill over twice. A certain newspaper did not recognize their successes but that was to their disadvantage. First is still better than third.

Lads and Lassies graduating have a great feast called a Senior Banquet. At this feast they read a Senior Prophecy, which due to circumstances is not available, it was banned from the annual, also a short History, and Senior Favorites which were as follows:

The lads and Lassies fearing tnat they might not be remembered by the Holiday Inn decided to leave there mark or marks. Butter on the ceiling, mashed potatoes on the floor, and a table in the swimming pool . . . T-E-E-E-D! Some decided to go for a cool swim, some didn't decide but went anyway.

Now this tale is coming to a close, not everything was told, those things are for your heart to remember. The test of Panthership has been passed, but their are other titles one must serve, work, and struggle for. Some will require long years of apprenticeship, some will seem impossible trails, but always remember high school is one of the hardest tests, yet you passed it, you can do this thing too. SIXTH: how to begin again.

WE'VE GOT THE SPIRIT AND WE'RE HERE TO SAY CLASS OF EIGHTY ALL THE WAY! The halls no longer echo the class of 80's voices, it's over.

STUDENTS — IT'S 10 AM! DO YOU KNOW WHERE YOUR TEACHERS ARE?

On a cold February day the administration of our school gave the students a break for a day and went to Boise to lobby for education.
Two bus loads of Snake River district teachers boarded a bus bright and early and left Blackfoot at 4:a.m. for the state capitol, Boise.
After an address by governor Evans, the teachers talked to legislators about some of Idaho's schools' problems, and lobbied under the idea that "Idaho Teachers Care."
Some of the problems they discussed included the fact that Idaho is 48th out of 50 states for money appropriated to education.
It was 8:00 p.m. before they got back to good old Snake River. Whether their concern and work payed off or not, still remains to be seen.

Mistress Turner

Once upon a time, in the kingdom of Snake River, there arose a clamor in the halls of the great king, James Odell. As King Odell and Queen Magelby sat discussing the betrothal of their tomboy daughter, the Princess Schilhable, Court messenger Thomas ran, panting, into the great hall. " A thousand pardons sire," he pleaded, "but I bring you tidings of great urgency. We have just received word that the dreaded warrior, the Black Knight Martin is on his way to your kingdom at this very moment!"

At this dreaded news, the court musician, Marva Jensen, dropped her choir folder and gasped in horror. All the brave knights and fair maidens in the hall drew back in fear, for they all knew that the Black Knight Martin was the most dreaded of all midevil warriors.

King Odell jumped to his feet and roared, "send for the court welders, Jim Bang and Gail Serr!" A short time later, the court welders burst into the hall, still wearing their welding goggles and one was still carrying a burning torch, a long hose trailing behind him. "Did you call for us, Sire?" Sir Bang inquired. The King, who by now was beginning to get a little red in the face, bellowed out to them, "I want you to begin building a great iron gate for the wall of the city, and begin it NOW, spare no expense, and it must be done IMMEDIATELY . . . if not sooner."

"Sir Thomas, on your way out, send for Mistress Havens and Mistress Jones, at this dreaded time, I need my schollar and counselor near me." As Sir Thomas rushed from the room, King Odell collapsed onto the seat of his throne, his head in his hands. "Oh, Queen Magelby, what shall I do? My soul is sore distressed." She patted him reassuringly on the shoulder, "King Odell, I have an idea! Why don't you send Sir Williams and Sir Hansen to meet the Black Knight? If Sir Hansen's Parliamentary Procedure doesn't get him, an athletic pep-talk from Coach Willy will surely do the trick." "Why my Queen, that is an excellent idea! I will send for them immediately."

Having accomplished all these wonderful things, King Odell suddenly realized that he was in need of food and entertainment. He clapped his hands and immediately the twin court jesters, D. Halford and R. Halford entered with bells on their toes and a song in their heart. "We are sorry, King Odell, but Mistress Turner will not allow you to have food and drink until 12:10, she cannot sell lunch tickets during disasters. At this news, King Odell put his head back in his hands and once again sunk down to his throne. Mistress Anderson (who was in charge of keeping the great hall quiet) was just beginning to get things settled down for the first time all day, when Mistress Wolfley marched in, closely followed by Sir Shelley, Count Elison, Sir Grant and Lord VanOrden.

"One, two, halt, right face, left face, attention. one two . . ." "King Odell," Sir Grant began, "we have a new scientific breakthrough, which will be helpful, we feel. A new kind of bomb, we can declare biological warfare on the Black Knight!" At this news, the hall was once again full of activity and Mistress Anderson decided to go back to reading her book.

At exactly 3:30 that afternoon, a small cloud of dust began to rise on the horizon outside of the kingdom. All of the King's helpers were assembled at the gate, and it was indeed a frightening sight. A huge iron gate rose to the very top of the city wall, and Sir Selke , the newly appointed gate-keeper, stood, ready to defend it at all cost. Sir Grant, Lord VanOrden, County Elison and Sir Shelley stood on top of the wall, ready with their new biological bomb. No trace had been seen of the brave Knights, Sir Williams and Sir Hansen for several hours, and King Odell greatly feared for their safety. Mistress Havens and Mistress Jones stood at the King's side, ready to give counseling, should the kingdom, per chance, fall into the hands of the Black Knight.

The form began to take shape as the Black horse and its rider drew closer and closer. At last, he was at the great iron gate of the kingdom of Snake River. He halted his great, black steed, flipped up the helmet cover on his suit of armour and said, "Excuse me, but I was wondering if I could borrow a cup of formaldehyde?"

OLD PHOTOGRAPHS

I open the cover and turn to the pages, where my high school memories were made.
I remember the teachers, and all my old friends,
and the school-kid pranks we played.

I remember a thousand parties we had at the lake, the park, and games.
I can clearly see all the faces of old,
but it's hard to remember the names.

My high school years, oh I laugh now to think,
I could hardly wait to get out.
And now that I am, I long to go back—
But I guess that's what life is about.

The classes I took just to kill time,
teachers I saw every week.
Now I'd be happy to see them once more,
and a tear softly rolls down my cheek.

Old photographs of high school dreams,
I drempt every dream in the book.
And every now and then I open it up to peak inside and have a small look.

Back then I had all the answers,
I had all the time in the world.
I never got shook, and I was always okay,
I'd love to go back if I could.

I can see the old buildings where I use to go,
The old chairs where I used to sit.
The biology room where we disected frogs,
the home ec room where we learned to knit.

The locker room, the gym and track,
the football field and the halls.
All of the sports and all of the studies,
the prom and senior ball.

I remember them all through my old photographs,
and I can't help but shed a tear.
'Cause there was nothing greater than being a kid,
those four terrific years.

I close the book now, and hold it close.
My memories are all locked inside.
And to think that I could hardly wait to get out—
But on graduation night I cried.

BUT ALAS,

The year 1980 had to come to an end
It was not a sad end
Because this year had you.

Marching together as one
Our battle cry had become
"Together we are the mighty Panthers!"

Our banner is now unfurled
The battle is won.
We must not forge forth
Onto new battle grounds.
We must hold our banners high.
Even though we may not meet again
Our spirits will still cry
"Together we are

THE MIGHTY PANTHERS!"

TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1995

Their world is love, warmth and friendship.

They are always giving of themselves unselfishly.

Let them grow up to know

That men can live and work together without hate and bigotry.

Let their world be better than ours

So that their vocabulary is one that will not remember those frustrations that are of the adult world.

But most of all,

let their world know

Peace.
